Police will not proceed with an investigation until all relevant evidence is provided by the person who has submitted the form. Do you agree to provide CCTV footage and to complete a witness statement at a police station within 7 days of making this report?

Prosecutors may seek compensation for loss of fuel on your behalf at the conclusion of an investigation. It is at the discretion of the court as to whether or not this is applied. In the event that it is not applied you should seek your own legal advice.

The Australasian Convenience and Petroleum Marketers Association (ACAPMA) maintains a National Drive-off Register. The National Drive-off Register is a national scheme put together by ACAPMA and MotorMouth Pty Ltd, a member of the Informed Sources Group, which aims to combat incidences of drive-offs and failure to pay in service stations.

The scheme assists police in taking targeted action against crime by providing them with the right criminal information. This is achieved by service station owners gathering and reporting incidences of crime in the register. This will lead to a reduction in related crime and the ability to protect service station staff and customers from crime and the fear of crime. The scheme also aims to inform offenders that forecourt criminal activity will not be tolerated.

All service stations are encouraged to register to protect and safeguard the wellbeing of their business by reporting these kinds of criminal activity. There is a cost associated with using this register acapma.com.au/national-drive-off-register

ACT Policing also encourages Service Stations to introduce "Pay before you Pump", where customers will be required to pay for their petrol prior to filling up their tanks as opposed to afterwards. This strategy has been adopted in other states, including Victoria and South Australia successfully! In trials led by these states, results include

- Shop sales have remained the same
- Site profitability has increased due to no theft
- Customers are responding well to the changes
- Staff morale and productivity is higher
- The offenders are targeting sites without pre paid fuel

This crime prevention and community safety strategy is designed to eliminate theft of petrol and increase personal safety of both customers and staff.
